just so you have the facts. , morocco was owned by a lichtenstein anstalt called pamur which held the deed. it has a cost basis. the assigned the ownership of that anstalt to another anstalt. they can put those shares in a bvi co for German tax purposes. , he then had his wife form a new BVI co to avoid German tax he transfers the shares of one bvi co to another. , he then tells us we are responsible for tax problems. !! . Marc i assume wanted his 1 million euro in his account though you told him 1.5 % only. . you and I cant send money to liechtenstein to buy a BVI co in todays world. Every bank alarm goes off. This is why I told you that old bankers are dangerous. their ideas are outdated.

On another note, please take extra care. Im aware of the meeting in Riyadh. as well as washingtons reaction to recent decisions. I can only assume that they have ignored your uncles good advice.
